

Publication Ethics Statement

International Journal of Advanced Biotechnology and Research (IJABR) recognizes and is dedicated to promoting ethical publishing practices. Editors IJABR- commit peer reviewers with the confidential and effective evaluation of submitted work from authors, and readers place their trust in the peer-review process. IJABR having a set of publication ethics as guidelines for authors engaged in the publication of scientific research to comply with COPE (<https://publicationethics.org/files/u7141/1999pdf13.pdf>) practices and establishes a high-quality standard of ethics for journal publication.

Authorship

- Authors should submit the original work. Any infringement may lead to a retraction of the article.
- Authors should not fabricate or manipulate the data. A paper should contain sufficient detail and references to permit others to replicate the work. Fraudulent or inaccurate statements constitute unethical behaviour and are unacceptable.
- Authors may be asked to provide the raw data in connection with a paper for editorial review, and should be prepared to provide public access to such data.
- Author should take care in regards to Plagiarism should not be happen in submitted manuscript. Plagiarism in all its forms constitutes unethical publishing behaviour and is unacceptable.
- Authors should take the proper permission from copyright owner(s) and to state evidence that such permission has been granted when submitting their papers.
- Authors should guarantee that the article has not been published previously or is not being evaluated for publication elsewhere.
- Proper acknowledgment of the work of others must always be given. Authors should cite publications that have been influential in determining the nature of the reported work.
- All authors should take care about Submitted works that should not contain any unlawful statements that may violate the law.
- If the research involves the use of animal or human subjects, the author should ensure that, the appropriate institutional ethical committee has approved them.
- Authors should include a statement in the manuscript that informed consent was obtained for experimentation with human subjects.

Fundamental errors in published works

When an author discovers a significant error in own published work, it is the author's obligation to promptly notify the journal editor or publisher and cooperate with the editor to retract or correct the paper.

Editorship

- The editor of the IJABR is responsible for final decision regarding the publication of article submitted.
- Editors should provide a fair judgment and consideration to all manuscripts based on its quality with no regard to racial background, gender, religious belief, ethnic origin, citizenship, or political background of the authors, institutional affiliation of the author(s).
- If referee who feels unable to review within a time should notify to editor and editor should appoint the appropriate reviewer for the review process. Editors are responsible to consider all the submitted manuscripts in a reasonable time frame.
- The team of IJABR must not disclose any data of a submitted manuscript and not disclose any information about the manuscript under consideration to other parties.
- Editors should not provide any private information of authors is included in the manuscript sent to reviewers
- Editors are expected to act accordance with COPE practices when considering a manuscript for publication.

Reviewer Process

Peer reviewers are external experts chosen by editors to provide written opinions, with the aim of improving the study. The process of Peer review assists the editor(s) of IJABR in making editorial decisions and may also assist the author in improving the quality of paper.

- All papers will be critically examined by at least two anonymous reviewers, selected for their competencies in the subject area of the submitted manuscript. A manuscript may be accepted in its original form, subject to revision, or rejection.
- Submitted manuscripts for peer review must not be disclosed to other parties/public.
- Reviewers should be prompt in review process to complete the evaluation of a manuscript in a reasonable time frame and inform the editors when unable to complete the work within the time.
- Reviewers' should state the professional statement for their evaluation of manuscript.
- The reviewers' (and editors') suggestions will be informed to the author regarding the corrections. A manuscript returned to an author for corrections/revision.
- The peer reviewer should also call to the editor's attention regarding the any other published paper of which they have personal knowledge.
- Reviewers should clarify professional judgment for their evaluation of a manuscript.

Conflict of Interest Policy

Authors, Editors and Reviewers are expected to adhere to the following guidelines in compliance with COPE practices.

- Authors should inform their source of financial support for their research work.
- If Editor and Author(s) have any relationship, which may lead to an unfair evaluation, another editor will be appointed instead.
- Any appearance of conflict of interest at the time of receiving a new manuscript for evaluation, reviewer should promptly return the manuscript to the editor, informing the conflict of interest issue.

Sanctions

In the event that there are documented violations of any of the above mentioned policies in any journal, regardless of whether or not the violations occurred in IJABR, the following sanctions will be applied:

- Immediate rejection of the infringing manuscript.
- Immediate rejection of every other manuscript submitted to IJABR by any of the authors of the infringing manuscript.
- Prohibition against all of the authors for any new submissions to IJABR, either individually or in combination with other authors of the infringing manuscript, as well as in combination with any other authors. This prohibition will be imposed for a minimum of 36 months.
- Prohibition against all of the authors from serving on the Editorial Board of IJABR.

In cases where the violations of the above policies are found to be particularly egregious, the publisher reserves the right to impose additional sanctions beyond those described above.